

CERID Publication Guidelines

Prospective authors are kindly requested to follow the CERID Publication Guidelines while developing article manuscript for the journal Education and Development.

Articles:

Theoretical article: for arguing/challenging/problematising the existing theoretical perspective

Review article: for reviewing the existing body of literature in a specific issue/area of knowledge

Empirical article: for developing argument in the light of the empirical studies

Overall Format:

The prospective authors are encouraged to follow the format below. They are also welcome to bring flexibility in accordance with the nature of article they have written (theoretical article/review article/empirical article; quantitative/qualitative/mixed):

Title (not exceeding 20 words; should grasp the main argument of the article)

Abstract (not exceeding 150-250 words; should have clear wording for addressing the main research issue/problem/question/objective(s)/review area, methodology and major finding(s))

Key words (not exceeding 5 key words that the manuscript revolves around)

Introduction/Background (background information of the research/review issue)

Context (context in which the author situates the research/review)

Objectives/Research Questions/Statement of the Problem (develop a clear research question/problem exploring the gap in the literature in the research area)

Theoretical perspectives and existing literature (existing body of literature that ensures a research gap, and theoretical/empirical support for rationalizing the relevance of the study)

Methodology (Methods and tools for data collection, sampling, (construction of field in case of qualitative research))

Analysis (Coding, categorizing, statistically analyzing in case of quantitative study; Coding, categorizing, patterning and thematising in case of qualitative study)

Findings and Discussion (Interpreting and discussing the major findings in the light of the theoretical perspectives that the author(s) situates their research argument with)

Conclusion (Summarizing research addressing research argument, methods and major findings; suggesting some crucial issues/gaps for further exploration in that particular area)

Reference Guidelines:

- ✎ For basic reference: Author's surname, year: page(s) e.g., (Tomlinson, 2010:17); (Tomlinson, 2010) if page is not relevant; (Tomlinson, 2010: 16-17) for multiple pages; (Tomlinson & Detour, 2011) for two authors; (Tomlinson, 2010; 2011) for multiple publications of the same author; According to Tomlinson (2010) for in-text reference.

- ✎ Quotation that exceeds three lines should be block quote without quotation marks, e.g.

As bricoleurs recognize the limitations of a single method, the discursive strictures of one disciplinary approach, what is missed by traditional practices of validation, the historicity of certified modes of knowledge production, the inseparability of knower and known, and the complexity and heterogeneity of all human experience, they understand the necessity of new forms of rigor in the research process (Kincheloe, 2001:261)

- ✎ References should be alphabetically organized and should include the items that are referred in the article

- ✎ Book:

One author: 'Surname, Name (Year). Title. Place: Publisher'

Two authors: 'Surname, Name & Surname, Name (Year). Title. Place: Publisher.'

Three or more authors: 'Surname, Name; Surname, Name & Surname, Name (Year). Title. Place: Publisher'

Edition: 'Surname, Name (Year). Title (nth ed.). Place: Publisher'

Book edited by a person(s) other than author: 'Surname, Name (Year). Title. Name, Surname (ed.) Place: Publisher'

Article in journal:

Single author: Surname, Name (Year). Title of the article. Title of the Journal, volume (issue): page(s).

Two authors: Surname, Name & Surname, Name (Year). Title of the Journal, Volume (issue): Page(s).

Unpublished dissertation: Surname, Name (Year). Title. Dissertation type: Institution.

Conference Presentation: Surname, Name (Year). Title. Paper presented at Conference Name, Place, Date

Web page: Surname, Name (Year). Title. URL. Date of retrieval

A few examples:

Bista, Dor Bahadur (1991). Fatalism and Development: Nepal's Struggle for Modernization. India: Orient Longman Limited.

Bourdieu, Pierre & Passeron, Jean-Claude (1977). Reproduction in Education, Society and Culture. London: Sage Publication.

Skinner, Debra & Holland, Dorothy (1996). Schools as a heteroglossic site for the cultural production of educated person in and beyond a hill community in Nepal. In B. A. Levinson, D. E. Foley, & D. C. Holland, The cultural production of the educated person: Critical ethnographies of schooling and local practice. Buffalo, New York: State University of New York.

Norton, Bonny & Toohey, Kellen (2001). Changing perspectives on good language learners. TESOL Quarterly, 35, 305-321 etc.

Technical Guidelines:

- ✎ The journal follows fully anonymous peer-reviewed procedure.
- ✎ Review article should be of 4000-6000 words including bibliography.
- ✎ Empirical article/theoretical article should have 5000-7000 words including bibliography.
- ✎ Font: Times New Roman; Title: 13 boldface; subtitles: 12 (boldface); body: 12
- ✎ Style of documentation: APA style should be adopted throughout the manuscript
- ✎ Section headings: Section headings should be clear and as brief and catchy as possible. Please follow the format:
 - Section heading: 3. Edu-migration in migration landscape
 - Subsection heading: 3.1 Interface between education and migration
 - Subsection heading: 3.1.1 Migration parameters in developing society
3.1.2 Migration effects in developing society
- ✎ Only the first letter of the heading should be capitalized (except proper nouns)
- ✎ Space: 1.5" with no justification in the right; indentation for the paragraph except for the ones right below the headings and subheadings
- ✎ Notes should be indicated as footnotes.
- ✎ Tables, maps and figures should be clearly numbered, enumerated and captioned
- ✎ Any sort of plagiarism is strongly discouraged.
- ✎ Manuscript needs to be accompanied with a cover page including title, submission line, date, name of the author, contact

The editorial board deserves the right for not to process the manuscript if it is outside the coverage of the journal; contains serious flaws of design, methodology, analysis, discussion and reference; plagiarized; lacks contribution in the field concerned; and/or already published elsewhere.